Contract value of the following operator to use argenerated on in your databoard? 1. Why is it important to use argenerated on your databoard? 1. It adds to the dissuit appeal of the databoard. 1. It allows to blockeds more information or the databoard. 1. It allows to to display information or the databoard. 1. It allows to to display information in groupings. 1. It allows to display information in groupings. 1. It allows to display information in groupings. 2. Which of the following-options are useful when loging out the databoard lockshy? (Author accessory possible, partial credit author loging out the databoard lockshy? (Author accessory possible, partial credit author loging out the databoard lockshy? (Author accessory possible, partial credit author loging to the background file, our distributed will guidely lockshy accessory possible, partial credit author lockshy to the ship. 1. Ship of the partial of the partial of the ship of the distributed file of the ship. 2. Which of the aptions below will belief a group of dispect? 2. Which of the aptions below will belief a group of dispect? 2. Which of the aptions below will belief a group of dispect? 2. Which of the aptions below will belief a group of dispect? 2. It hold down the Shift key and cities of strand than the late dispect. 2. Indication the passible. The right-cities will open the conteas means but it will ship allow you to salect more than one object at a time. Spitchly makes more amount to be let at the dish borate. 2. Indication the facility of the probability is expected by useful if the object you want to select an econe tender has contended across the page. 2. One find 6. Select, cit on on Select Objects to active to odd this to the dish to the doctor than contended and one page. 3. One find 6. Select, cit on on Select Objects to active the doctor to be doctor than contended and one page.	Practice Quiz • 30 min • 3 total points
It adds to the visual appeal of the disabloand. It allows us to include more information to the disabloand. It allows us to display information in groupings. Correct Ves. that's right. Segmentation is important so that we can group metrics together in meaningful groupings. 2. Which of the following options are useful when laying out the disabloand initially? July July		G	o to next item
It adds to the visual appeal of the disabloand. It allows us to include more information to the disabloand. It allows us to display information in groupings. Correct Ves. that's right. Segmentation is important so that we can group metrics together in meaningful groupings. 2. Which of the following options are useful when laying out the disabloand initially? July July
It allows us to include more information on the dashboard. It allows us to display information in groupings. Careat			1/1 point
 ★ It allows us to display information in groupings. ✓ cerret
Correct Ves, that's right. Segmentation is important so that we can group metrics together in meaningful groupings. 2. Which of the following options are useful when laying out the dashboard initially? 3. Which of the following options are useful when laying out the dashboard initially? 3. Styles. 3. Styles. 3. Styles. 4. Lake-ground fill. 4. Correct 4. Ves, that's right, 9 selecting cells first and then changing the background fill, our deshboards will quickly take shape. 5. Correct 4. Ves, that's right. Shapes are really flexible and useful in dashboard design. 5. Which of the options below will select a group of objects? 6. Which of the options below will select a group of objects? 7. Japaint 8. Japaint 9. Which of the options below will select a group of objects? 19. Hold down the Shift key and click on the first and then the last object. 19. Hold down the Shift key and click on the first and then the last object. 19. Hold down the Crit key and click on each object. 19. Indied down the Crit key and click on each object. 19. Indied down the Crit key and click on each object. 19. Indied down the Crit key and click on each object. 19. Indied down the Crit key and click on each object. 19. Indied down the Crit key and click on each object. 19. Indied down the Crit key and click on each object. 20. Correct 19. Ves find & Salect, click on Select Objects to activate objects you want to select are colore together in the click instead.
Ves, that's right. Segmentation is important so that we can group metric's together in meaningful groupings. 2. Which of the following options are useful when laying out the dashboard initiality? Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded Syles. Background fill. Ocrrect Yes, that's right. By selecting cells first and then changing the background fill, our dashboards will quickly take shape. Tables. Custom shapes. Ocerrect Yes, that's right. Shapes are really flexible and useful in dashboard design. All paint Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded Hold down the shift key and click on the first and then the last object. Yes, that is possible. The right-click will open each object. Ocerrect Yes, that is possible. The right-click will open the content menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object as it mism. It probably makes more serve to use the left-click instead. Hold down the Shift key and click on each object. Ocerrect Yes, that is correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. Go to Find & Select. click on Select Objects to activate object selection. Occreet Yes, that scorect. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in		It allows us to display information in groupings.
Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded Styles. Background fill. Ocrrect Vest, that's right. By selecting cells first and then changing the background fill, our deathboards will quickly take shape. Tables. Custom shapes. Ocrrect Vest, that's right. Shapes are really flexible and useful in dashboard design. 3. Which of the options below will select a group of objects? Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded! Hold down the Shift key and click on the first and then the last object. Hold down the Shift key and right-click on each object. Ocrrect Vest, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object at a time. It probably makes more sense to use the left-click instead. Hold down the Ctrl key and click on each object. Ocrrect Vest, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. Octoor in the Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. Ocrrect Vest, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in		Yes, that's right. Segmentation is important so that we can group metrics together in meaningful
□ Styles. □ Background fill. □ Carrest Ves, that's right. By selecting cells first and then changing the background fill, our diashboards will quickly take shape. □ Tables. □ Custom shapes. □ Custom shapes. □ Currect Ves, that's right. Shapes are really flexible and useful in diashboard design. 1. Which of the options below will select a group of objects? Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded) □ Hold down the Shift key and right-click on each object. □ Hold down the Shift key and right-click on each object. □ Carrect Ves, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object at a time. It probably makes more sense to use the left-click instead. □ Hold down the Ctrl key and click on each object. □ Carrect Ves, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. □ Go for Find & Select, click on Select Objects to achee object selection. □ Carrect Ves, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in		2. Which of the following options are useful when laying out the dashboard initially?	1/1 point
Seakeground fill. Correct Yes, that's right. By selecting cells first and then changing the background fill, our dashboards will quickly take shape. □ Tables. □ Custom shapes. □ Cerrect Yes, that's right. Shapes are really flexible and useful in dashboard design. 1. Which of the options below will select a group of objects? (Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded) □ Hold down the Shift key and click on the first and then the last object. □ Hold down the Shift key and right-click on each object. □ Correct Yes, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object at a time. It probably makes more sense to use the left-click instead. □ Hold down the Crit key and click on each object. □ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. □ Go to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. □ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in		(Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded)
Correct Yes, that's right. By selecting calls first and then changing the background fill, our dashboards will quickly take shape. □ Tables. □ Custom shapes. □ Correct Yes, that's right. Shapes are really flexible and useful in dashboard design. 3. Which of the options below will select a group of objects? Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded) Hold down the Shift key and click on the first and then the last object. □ Hold down the Shift key and click on the first and then the last object. □ Correct Yes, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object at a dime. It probably makes more sense to use the left-click instead. □ Hold down the Ctrl key and click on each object. □ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. □ Go to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. □ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in		☐ Styles.
Tables. Tables. Custom shapes. Ocrrect Yes, that's right. Shapes are really flexible and useful in dashboard design.		☑ Background fill.
 Custom shapes. ○ Correct Yes, that's right. Shapes are really flexible and useful in dashboard design. 3. Which of the options below will select a group of objects?		Yes, that's right. By selecting cells first and then changing the background fill, our dashboards will quickly
Custom shapes. ② Correct Yes, that's right. Shapes are really flexible and useful in dashboard design. 3. Which of the options below will select a group of objects? (Nultiple answers possible, partial credit awarded) □ Hold down the Shift key and click on the first and then the last object. ② Hold down the Shift key and right-click on each object. ② Correct Yes, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object at a time. It probably makes more sense to use the left-click instead. ② Hold down the Ctrl key and click on each object. ② Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. ③ Co to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. ② Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in	4
3. Which of the options below will select a group of objects? (Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded) ☐ Hold down the Shift key and click on the first and then the last object. ☑ Hold down the Shift key and right-click on each object. ☑ Correct Yes, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object at a time. It probably makes more sense to use the left-click instead. ☑ Hold down the Ctrl key and click on each object. ☑ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. ☑ Go to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. ☑ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in		Custom shapes.
 (Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded) ☐ Hold down the Shift key and click on the first and then the last object. ☑ Hold down the Shift key and right-click on each object. ☑ Correct Yes, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object at a time. It probably makes more sense to use the left-click instead. ☑ Hold down the Ctrl key and click on each object. ☑ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. ☑ Go to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. ☑ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in 		Yes, that's right. Shapes are really flexible and useful in dashboard design.
 Hold down the Shift key and click on the first and then the last object. ✓ Correct Yes, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object at a time. It probably makes more sense to use the left-click instead. ✓ Hold down the Ctrl key and click on each object. ✓ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. ✓ Go to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. ✓ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in 		3. Which of the options below will select a group of objects?	1/1 point
 ✓ Correct Ves, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object at a time. It probably makes more sense to use the left-click instead. ✓ Hold down the Ctrl key and click on each object. ✓ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. ✓ Go to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. ✓ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in 		(Multiple answers possible, partial credit awarded)
 ✓ Correct Ves, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object at a time. It probably makes more sense to use the left-click instead. ✓ Hold down the Ctrl key and click on each object. ✓ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. ✓ Go to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. ✓ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in 		☐ Hold down the Shift key and click on the first and then the last object.
Yes, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more than one object at a time. It probably makes more sense to use the left-click instead. ✓ Hold down the Ctrl key and click on each object. ✓ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. ✓ Go to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. ✓ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in		✓ Hold down the Shift key and right-click on each object.
 ✓ Correct Wes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. ✓ Go to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. ✓ Correct Wes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in 		Yes, that is possible. The right-click will open the context menu but it will also allow you to select more
Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the page. ✓ Go to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection. ✓ Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in		✓ Hold down the Ctrl key and click on each object.
Correct Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in		Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are scattered across the
Yes, that's correct. This option is especially useful if the objects you want to select are close together in		Go to Find & Select, click on Select Objects to activate object selection.	